Bay Citizens Air Complaints During Council's Open Forum

Disgruntled citizens, approximately 100 of them, voiced their complaints at the Open Forum session held in the Bay Junior High School on Wednesday evening, January 28. On the platform for the purpose of making reports and answering questions were the "City Council" including Mayor Warren Carver, councilman Andre Arceneaux and William Frisbie, city engineer, James Lowe, project engineer and attorney for the city Gerald Goy, and moderator Pete Bonaventura.

Actually there was an "about face" in procedure and the audience heard bitter complaints and accusations from the city officials who lambasted the general public for creating nuisances and health threats by continuously strewing litter, raw garbage, bottles and cans and failure to show civic pride on their premises. Lack of sufficient money and manpower to properly operate the city were points strongly emphasized and the low salaries being paid city officials were pointed out.

Mayor Carver came out strong in his opposition to allowing any re-building on the Beach side of the business section and said he felt property owners should be paid a fair price for their holdings. There were, he said, at least two ways in which money could be raised to pay for these lots: A bond issue, or if the land were used as a Recreational Park then Federal Funds would provide 50% of the money.

POPULATION DECLINE

In giving a report on the utilities system, Councilman Frisbie stated 400 family units had been dropped since Hurricane Camille. His records indicate that prior to the storm 2,300 family units used city services and currently 1,900 families are being billed for services. Frisbie said the rates for services would have to be increased and said that Bay St. Louis was now paying the lowest rates in the coastal area. Frisbie said there were only three men employed for the whole system and more manpower was needed. Biggest problem in the system is sewerage with a total of 13 lifts electrically operated, 10 of which were under water during the storm. Mayor Carver waived a formal report in order to allow the voices of the people to be heard. Each person when recognized by the moderator was allowed one question to be answered by the official best qualified in that particular category.

Waveland Discounts Commercial Gas

The mayor and all members were present for the Waveland Town Board meeting Tuesday night. Among several resolutions passed was making a 33 1/3 per cent discount on the monthly gas bills of commercial gas customers. To qualify for a commercial rate the consumer would have to use not less than 25,000 cubic feet of gas in one month.

Other resolutions passed were to apply for an Interim Assistance program; adopted the Certified Area Program; authorized the mayor to enter into an agreement with the Housing Authority and entered into a contract for management and technical services with General Electric.

Improvement was ordered for the water system and the installation of another fire hydrant. The financial statement was read and approved and bills were ordered paid.

The Committee handling the "We Care" fund is now preparing to process applications. Over 200 applications for Clean Up are on file at the Town Hall.

Hancock Redistricting Effective March 1st

Redistricting of Hancock County will become effective March 1, 1970. The new map was adopted by the Board of Supervisors at their meeting Monday, February 3. Federal Judge Dan M. Williams' order for redistricting was ordered to be put into effect on March 1.

The judge's order also called for a new voter registration drive to be made on or after March 1.

Other matters relative to the redistricting were adopted by the Board. Those included the election of county judges and the election of county commissioners in each of the five districts. An all maintainance of all roads in the county it was decided that on the maintenance of roads in sub divisions the county engineer would furnish the board with population counts on sub division roads and act on the areas individually.

With new districting candidates for Supervisors will qualify in their individual districts but will face a county-wide vote. Upon opening bids for the restoration of the Health Center the work was awarded to E. M.

C. Inc., Bay St. Louis on its low bid of $12,734.00.

The Board recessed early Monday afternoon to reconvene Monday morning February 9.

Supervisors Elliott and Russ attended a meeting of the Regional Planning Commission late Monday afternoon in Biloxi to discuss securing federal flood insurance for Hancock County residents under the National Flood Insurance Program of 1969.

Tornados Rip Hancock Sunday

During the past week elements of tornados visited Hancock County took shingles off a dwelling and twisted trees in Bayou de l'Est; then went to Sharkey and moved a mobile home from the foundation. The tornado went moved to the Bay St. Louis area, twisted a dwelling on Washington Street near the highway and then destroyed "Hancock" restaurant on the highway.

It then touched down on Mango Avenue in Pass Christian, moved to the Gulfport area and went northeast.

This happened during a Civil Defense tornado watch in Mississippi and Louisiana when three Mardi Gras floats in New Orleans were damaged.

For some twenty-two years up until 1967 tornados were practically unknown along the Mississippi coast although there had been two hurricanes during that time. The 1967 tornado hit Mississippi City and did considerable damage but did not encompass a large area. It is said that several tornados accompanied Hurricane Camille and from twisted trees and buildings noted afterwards, that it Camille did not do enough damage who had a company of tornados with her to aid in the devastation.

BOSS OF THE YEAR in Jack Pierce (L), manager of General Electric, Bay St. Louis, Miss. Mr. Pierce received plaque for being "Boss of the Year" from Larry Breland (R), President of Bay St. Louis Jaycees.

By Joe Platt, Staff Writer

The Mississippi Test Facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has been hit by President Nixon's drastic slash in the Federal Budget and "moth balling" of this facility could occur in 1971, according to a statement made Tuesday in a press conference conducted from Huntsville, Alabama by Dr. George M. Low, Deputy Administrative Officer of NASA in Washington.

With the reduction in the current budget the all-over fifty-off of NASA personnel is estimated at 50,000 with Huntsville least affected and MTF reduced to the status of "care taker" with a skeleton force of about 180 unless other agencies find it useful to move into Mississippi and take over existing facilities. The MTF was at its peak in 1968 when 3000 persons were employed. As of October 3, 1969, there were 2,325 employees and currently about 2,000 remain on the payroll.

Primary purpose of the facility was the testing of Saturn V rockets and the present contract calls for 0 additional testing this year. Final testing is scheduled to occur during December 1970. Indications are that hardware contractors, that is North American and Boeing will be phased down to zero and a General Electric spokesman said some support personnel would be required. He added General Electric is seeking contracts other than space oriented and hoped to remain on the Gulf coast.

Associated press reporter Vorn Landland of Washington cited the gradual reduction in the NASA budget which was high in 1968 with 8.85 billions, reduced slightly in 1969 to $2.179 billions and to $4,247 billion dollars in 1969. Current appropriation is $3,888 billion. Indications are that some of the rocket stages at MTF could be stored and come moth balled.

Henry Autor, deputy manager at the MTF said, "Things are happening very rapidly," and added that the curtailment of funds was "austere" but "still permits reasonable progress."

Autor continued: "We are concerned about the longevity of this plant," but added there is possibly 18 months of work ahead to complete the Saturn V program."

Dr. Low through a series of charts and graphs traced the tremendous achievements of the space program and discussed the planned application of information in relation to human needs. He expressed the belief that the weather bureau could now predict weather accurately over a longer-range period, and said that while there was a necessity at this time to stretch out the programs and delay the Mars launch, possibly cancel some lunar flights, etc. the program is expected to accelerate in future years.

In a visionary report, Dr. Low mentioned space study and the need for shuttle transportation in-and-out of space with the possible use of local facilities in connection with taking of shuttle engines.

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of NASA, is devoting effort and energy in trying to attract suitable interests to avoid themselves of the fine facilities and possibilities at the MTF. Senator Stennis in a hopeful statement said: "It is unthinkable that this fine facility should stand idle." He added: "I am very hopeful that some other NASA program involving the testing of shuttle engines or re-usable rockets might be established at the facility. Testing facilities for other agencies of the federal government are also a possibility. The Coast Guard has already agreed to locate a major project there for the development of a data buoy system."

Personnel at the site appeared optimistic when interviewing on Tuesday. There was quiet acceptance of the existing situation and workers felt the phase out would be gradual. At all, there was no panic but the whole community feeling that space exploration was here to stay and to come mankind, General feeling was that when one phase of progress is completed another phase begins.

The economy of Bay St. Louis as well as the cultural life has been greatly enriched with the advent and contributions made by MTF, and there was some apprehension as to what a close-down of operations might do in way of reducing the population of the town. No personal location statistics have been prepared since 1968 and the spokesman for MTF was unable to say how many of the employees were located presently within the city of Bay St. Louis. A report is currently being compiled.

Loss of population following the August 17 storm in Bay St. Louis is reported at 400 family units or approximately 2,000 persons.

Jackson Balch, manager of the MTF is currently in Washington conferring with government agencies in an attempt to stimulate interest leading to maximum use of the excellent facilities that will become available with the phasing out of rocket testing.

SENATOR JOHN STENNIS COMMENTS: Ref: Mississippi Test Facility.

Senator John Stennis today issued the following statement in connection with the future of the Mississippi Test Facility in Southwest Mississippi.

"I have been working closely with top NASA officials, as well as officials of other agencies of the Federal Government, in an effort to make certain that the Mississippi Test Facility continues in existence with the highest possible level of employment under the circumstances."

"The disclosure by NASA that testing of the Saturn V rocket engines will be completed in December of this year is not new, and has been known for some time. For many months I have been vigorously working to help find additional NASA, or other Federal programs, which might be located at the Facility, and there have been some encouraging developments although not to the extent as I would like. As late as last week, Dr. Thomas O. Paine, Administrator of NASA, assured me that the efforts of his agency to find some other program to be established at the Mississippi Test Facility would continue, and that he had not given up at all. I am very hopeful that some other NASA program involving the testing of shuttle engines, or re-usable rockets, might be established at the Mississippi Test Facility. Testing facilities for other agencies of the Federal Government are also a possibility. The Coast Guard has already agreed to locate a major project there for the development of a data buoy system."

"The Department of Transportation has also indicated a very strong interest in the possibility of establishing a highway vehicle safety test facility there. There are also other possibilities."

"I will certainly continue to work constantly to establish some permanent Federal program at the Mississippi Test Facility. It is almost unthinkable that this fine facility should stand idle."

Bonds Set In Murder Cases

After hearing from defense attorney and assistant district attorney Albert Noecker Judge Louis B. Grant set bonds on two persons indicted for murder.

Mrs. Lomax had pleaded innocent upon arraignment. Her trial is set for July 20. Mrs. Lyons is charged with the Jan. 10, 1970, alleged shooting death of Kenneth O. Levin in a Bay St. Louis drive-by shooting. He will face trial in the July term.

Mrs. John M. Parker, rotating president of The Harbor Shop, Inc., Pass Christian, announced that, in appreciation of the donation to the Pass Christian Volunteer Fire Department, this gift will be used to purchase needed equipment.

The Harbor Shop, at 203 East Beach is a non-profit community enterprise entirely staffed by volunteers. It offers antiques of all kinds and a variety of assortment of art and handicrafts. All articles in the shop are on consignment. The Harbor Shop retains 20% of the sale price and the profits are used each year to make a donation to one or more worthwhile causes in Pass Christian. Mrs. John G. McCloskey succeeds Mrs. Parker as president; with Mrs. Walter Carter, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Dennis, secretary and Mrs. Mary Abbley, treasurer.

Receives Degree

Miss Emilie Marie Rippe Rausch received a Master of Arts Degree in Speech from Louisiana State University Monday, January 28. She received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from L. S. U. in 1967.

While attending L.S.U., Miss Rausch was a member of Phi Mu Sorority, St. Alban's Episcopal Chapel Council, Vice president of Theta Alpha Phi, honorary theatre fraternity, and President of The Masquers, honorary make-up fraternity.

Badges Awarded To Girl Scouts

Troop 363, under the leadership of Mrs. Jackie Kohn, met at the Waveland Roller rink on Feb. 2 to award their "Money Badges." In order to earn the badge, the following performers are required of each Scout: tell how to select and care for clothes, explain safety rules, show how to stop quickly, use good form backwards and forwards, make forward and backwards with a partner and in a dance position, learn to play and teach a game, make to music, make a figure 8, give first aid to injured skater, learn diet and exercise training for a champion skater, help plan and take part in a skating party.

Members of Troop 363 are: Ann Marie Rocco, Torrey Hille, Toni Franchot, Barbara French, Julie Martimolich, Karen Truett, Denise French, V'Don Noto, Kathrine Roco, Mary Ann Jones, Sherill Elliot, Susan Garcia, Tracy Stoffel, Becky Bonvanti and Sandra Kingston.

Troop 363 and Troop 270 of Pass Christian, led by Mrs. Wilma Arickson, are planning a "troop get-together" all day outing in March during the Easter Holidays.

Mrs. Noto is assisted by Mrs. Josie Threet.

St. Stanislaus Forms New Club

During the present school session St. Stanislaus High School has begun a weight lifting program which is open to all students from the ninth through the twelfth grades. Brother Bonnet, the weight lifting instructor, has run similar programs in Alexandria, Louisiana, and Mobile, Alabama. All workouts are conducted in a completely renovated, up-to-date facility.

The aim of the weight lifting club is to guide boys toward better health and was organized with the purpose of helping young men develop strong healthy bodies. The particular aim is to reach and help the non-athlete, although athletes are most welcomed and even encouraged to avail themselves of the facilities of the weight room. Each member has a membership card, a physical fitness chart, and a private schedule planned to meet the needs of the individual.

The well-equipped weight room includes an official Olympic weight set, two thousand pounds in weights, an Andy Douglas all purpose machine, a calf machine, a hamstring and thigh machine, a lat machine, a sauna bath, and many other devices designed to help the individual student. At present there is a capacity membership of sixty members in the St. Stanislaus Weight Lifting Club, and there is a waiting list of students seeking admission as openings become available.

LUCIEN KIDD
Hancock Civil Defense Director

Activity Report Heard By Council Directors

The Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council Board of Directors met in Gulfport at the Downtown Motor Inn on Tuesday, January 27, 1970. Mrs. Bob Portwood, President, announced to the Board that gifts from Girl Scout Councils throughout the United States now total over $6,000.00. She stated that the amounts contributed ranged from approximately $300.00 from one Council to $3,000.00 from a Brownie troop. Names of individual troop members and contributors will be submitted at the Field Committee meeting in order to set up pen pals from Girl Scouts in Gulf Pines Council to Girl Scouts in other Councils. Letters of thanks have been mailed to the contributors from the Council Office in Hattiesburg.

Camp Development Chairman, Lt. John Stinson, informed the Board that the Navy Seabees would assume further development of the camp in the late spring or early summer when the lake dam and spillway would be completed and stables constructed.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will be held throughout the fifteen-county area Council February 21st to March 7th. On the Coast, Edgewater Plaza will serve as headquarters for pickup and delivery of the Girl Scouts neighborhood's orders. A large van with several thousand cartons of cookies will be parked at Edgewater Plaza parking lot February 10th to 13th. Proceeds from the cookie sale are earmarked for Camp Hi Kana.

The Camp Committee, Chairman, Dr. Theresa L. Buckley, announced that Camp Hi Kana sessions would be as follows in 1970: June 14 through June 27; June 28 through July 11; and July 12 through July 25. Dr. Buckley also announced that camp enrollment can be increased this year an additional 25 to allow more girls to participate in the two-week camp sessions. Reservations may be made through troop leaders, or directly through the Gulf Pines Council Office in Hattiesburg.

The annual Girl Scout event at Edgewater Plaza Mall will be held March 14th under the direction of Mrs. Bob Portwood, Sr., Council President. This year's theme, ACTION 70, has been adopted by the Board with emphasis on "to know, to care, to be involved." One of the first ACTION 70 projects is involvement in the Biloxi Senior Citizens Program which will bring all ages of Girl Scouts into an organized program for senior citizens. Mrs. C.C. McDonald, Sr., of Bay St. Louis, gave a thumbnail sketch on ACTION 70 as proposed at the National Girl Scout Conference in Seattle, Washington, in October of 1969.

Change in Soil Conservationists

Bob Jones, Soil Conservationist, was transferred by the Soil Conservation Service from his post at Ripley, Piquette County, to Hancock County replacing Lloyd Sparman who was transferred to the SCS office at Quitman, Clark County. An agronomy graduate from the University of Tennessee, Jones is located in the SCS office in the Hancock County Agricultural Building on Rockledge Avenue, Bay St. Louis. He can be contacted by calling 467-0819 and is ready to take landowners who have soil and water problems by hand and make them aware of the possibilities of soil conservation.

National Press Praises Civil Defense Director

Lucien Kidd, director, Hancock County Civil Defense, has been described in the national press as "a very rare man in Mississippi."

This pronouncement of worth, from the pen of Robert Maynard of the Washington Post, came out on the heels of a letter of commendation received by Kidd from John E. Davis, national civil defense director, Office of Civil Defense, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C.

Maynard's article on the local CD chief was based on a tour made by member of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers chain during the senate subcommittee hearings recently in Biloxi.

The article told of Kidd's pride in his community, devotion to duty, and sadness over the loss of life brought about by Hurricane Camille.

In contrast to some reports originating from across the coast, Maynard said Kidd treated everybody the same, be they colored or white, and he tried as far as was humanly possible to bring disaster relief to every affected family.

"The evidence of three days of hearings," said Maynard of the hearings of the senate subcommittee on disaster relief, "the evidence of five months after a storm here, and the evidence of a trip through the twisted, troubled roads is that Lucien Kidd is a very rare man in Mississippi."

In his letter of commendation Davis says that, "In any disaster of the magnitude of Hurricane Camille, there are many persons who perform above and beyond what might reasonably have been expected of them. But even among this elite group, there are few who stand out. I consider you one of those men."

"... my personal commendation for the superior and dedicated way in which you performed your civil defense duties to minimize casualties and help the suffering citizens ... I know your efforts will continue during this agonizing recovery period."

Kidd was appointed county civil defense director in 1968 after previously serving as Bay St. Louis CD chief, and earlier as assistant county CD director. Born in Spanish Honduras, he attended both St. Stanislaus College and Bay High School and was later graduate from Perkins School and Perkins Junior College. He attended Louisiana State University leaving to enlist in the United States Air Force where he served as a power turret and gun-sight specialist with the rank of technical sergeant. He was engaged he was sent overseas and took part in operations over Germany during WW II. Since World War II he was district manager for the American Brewery Co., later the Atlantic Brewing Co., and later was the Royal Beer distributor for the three coast counties.

A past commander of the American Legion, he was district commander in 1953, and subsequently killed in action at 44 at 8 Gulf Coast Unit.

A member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Knights of Columbus, he is married to the former Beryl Joan Fitch of Colchester, England. He is the father of two sons and three daughters and resides with his family at 107 Necules Ave., Bay St. Louis.

Waveland Notes

Nino S. Garcia — Phone 467-4438

Children and adults were disappointed when heavy rain caused cancellation of the parade of floats and floats of the Waveland parade in Waveland. Weather permitting the parade will roll this coming Sunday at 2 p.m. and we may still have a chance to say "Hello" to the floats.

The first phase of rebuilding the Catholic Church has been completed. The final phase of the church and convent will be completed in about two weeks. The church and convent are still in the final stages.

Henry's on Washington has been repaired enough to have masses on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday at 9 and 11 a.m. The Rev. William Kennedy officiates.

Clare's masses are being held in the Waveland Methodist Church on Central Avenue by Father Walter Maloney, Sunday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 10 a.m. This act of brotherhood by Waveland Methodists is one of the words of brotherhood.

"We Care" application is being given out at the Town Hall. This is for all the people of Hancock County to help repair the damage caused by Hurricane Camille.

Forms are also available at the office in Lakeshore for residents.

Mrs. Joyce Linley former employee in their Bay St. Branch Store, has opened a new dance place on Highway 100 called "Joyce's Lounge." The dance hall has tables to accommodate 100 persons.

and Western style music will be featured, catering to all couples only. Weekend, Nora Knight and her band are on hand for well known steel guitar. Richard Proctor of Clermont Harbor, Miss Gulf Coast appeared in many of the night spots, and her can answer almost any question.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Landry and Mrs. Gloria Landry of Caspian Drive in the Parish, who were married. Both hail from Waveland but plan to make their home in the Parish.

Landry heard the Hancock Electrical Co. and Mrs. Landry is an expert professional seamstress. Specializing in wedding and bridesmaid gowns, graduation gowns and costumes of all kinds. In the past Mrs. Landry helped make costumes for the floats of the parade in New Orleans.

Her oldest son Andrew is a student at Bay Senior High, while Catherine and John attend Bay Junior High.

Last Sunday Earl and I, and daughter Mary Green took our boat to the Bay to see the floats. We traveled all up and down the river and almost from dawn to dusk, and Earl caught one speckle trout weighing 3 pounds.

Got well wishes and sympathy to Mr. Glover "Uncle Ben" Green of Lakeshore, who is ill in Hancock General Hospital. Got well wishes also to those ill at home including Gloria Luech, Harold LaFontaine, Richard Garcia and daughter Berline, Mrs. Peggy Lander, Irvin Green, Anita Dillard and Earl Garcia.

Mrs. Betty Younger (in private life Mrs. Omar (Hao) lost all her pictures of the youngsters she has taught to ride at her Lazy Y Stables on Kiln Road, during the hurricane. If any one has any snap shots from former Mardi Gras Parades, showing the Lazy Y Drill Team, Betty would appreciate getting the negatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Egan Carroll of Garden Island sub-division have a beautiful new trailer, bought after losing their home, and are living near Bay Senior High on Blue Meadow Road. Garden Island is coming back better than expected, with over 12 homes already completed, and others being repaired.

Mrs. Rense Troyani came over for the weekend to get work started on her home repairs. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Baudin of Montgomery, Alabama.

Rocio Chock Elementary and high school students of Oxford, Mississippi recently sent a check in the amount of one hundred dollars as a gift to the children of Pass Christian who have suffered as a result of Hurricane Camille.

A week-long fund-raising campaign was staged by these young people and the check was sent in care of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Pass Christian.

February 14th is Valentine's Day, the day when we send messages of love and friendship to those dear to us. It began many years ago when, according to legend, St. Valentine left gifts on the doorstep of the poor and needy. Soon boys and girls began sending unsigned Valentines to one another.

EVEN SUCH IS TIME
Even such is Time, that takes in trust our youth, our joys, our all we have, And pays us but with earth and dust; Who in the dark and silent grave, When we have wandered all our ways, Shuts up the story of our days; But from this earth, this grave, this dust, My God shall raise me up, I trust.
BY -- Sir Walter Raleigh

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Dad) Elliott

Base fishing has been set back a little with the rains of last week. Most of our streams are on the dry side and ponds through the woods are rather full of deep holes and almost impassable.

Fishing for speckles has slowed down most everywhere. According to reports they have even left the pipe line canal where they have been caught for the past month or so. Speckle, red fish and other cold water fish are being caught out in the Louisiana marshes mostly in Bayou l'Anse-au-Loup, 3-mile and Blount. During the summer months they are caught on reefs such as Sholl Reef, Cat Island, Grassy Island, Half Moon, and along the shore line all the way from Bayou Caddy to the mouth of Pearl River. Other popular places are Red Fish Bayou, upper and lower Campbell's Bayou, Campbell's Bayou can be reached from La France's Camp down the river.

From March on green trout (black bass) should hit at their best in such places as Jordan River, Wolf River, Pearl River, Middle River and their tributaries. Small bayous like Deer, Fawn, Buck, Pointe-aux-Chenes and Chelon Bayou are ideal green trout fishing grounds as well as for perch, white and Jordan Rivers are in Miss. The others are in Louisiana. Pearl River can be fished with either Levee or Miss. license on both sides, but when fishing in other State you must have a license of that state.

Hunting left is for quail, snipe and woodcock. According to reports not too many of any are being killed.

Harry Roman is still getting a few quail and woodcock. Rather hard going, he claims.

Joe Mollere, an old time hunter, says he has gotten less quail this season than in past years. Maybe Camille killed a lot, Joe.

Ronald Fletcher loves his fishing, any kind. He has been getting some specks, etc.

C. O. (Buddy) Dubois of Waveland and J. V. Flourist who has a home in Waveland and uses a jet boat have been getting their share of specks and red fish at the Michoud slipp in Louisiana. J. V. claims his jet boat goes 50 miles an hour and can run in four inches of water. First one I have ever seen. Both of them are good fishermen.

White contractors owned by Lauren R. Moran and buddy sold top soil, fill dirt, clam shells, etc. Moran is a fisherman and a real sport. When not working, you can find him outdoors. Thought you sportsmen would be glad to know where you can purchase the above articles.

The Cypress District of Boy Scouts held their annual awards banquet on Jan. 30th at Slidell, Bay St. Louis area is under the Cypress Dist. quite a number of scouts and others attended from Bay St. Louis. Among those participating on the program were: Lavern Pahlman, Mrs. M. Henley, Bob Fleming, Buck Buehler, D. Inabinet, B. Nelson, J. Daly, T. Chandler, and Gerald Villars, New Orleans representative. Yours Truly received his 35 year service pin. The Slidell area of the Cypress District is a new and rapidly growing one, thanks to a bunch of active workers and real sports. Keep up the good work folks. There is nothing better for our young boys than scouting.

Was a pleasure to meet Taylor Chandler of Slidell and active worker in the Boy Scout movement. Hope he is as active in fishing and hunting or other sports. Pay us a visit Taylor.

Speaking of scouting, Joe Griffin is nephew of the Sea Scouts in Waveland. The boys lost their ship due to Camille but according to Joe a new one will be obtained shortly. Joe and the Sea Scouts are doing a good job and you can do so by helping them. Keep up the good work fellows.

The Judge said "a juvenile delinquent is a boy who does what you did when young - but gets caught."

Bill Stewart was down from Poplarville, bringing with him a couple of specks. Says they are out of this world.

With regard to reports the death of two of our local all-around sportsmen, Ben Hille, Sr., and Billy Bagnasco, both enjoyed their fishing and other sports which they shared with their friends. Sympathy is extended to the families.

A total of $971,000 in commercial fisheries grants in aid has been made available to Mississippi and Louisiana, according to Secretary of the Interior Louis L. Garmann reported. The funds are part of a $10 million grant for commercial fisheries.

Was a pleasure to meet Ed Stogder and Louis Torrance from New Orleans. They were guests of J. V. Flourist. Ed enjoys his fishing while Louis claims catching fish is his hobby. Both were relaxed and over the weekend. No fish.

Folks of Waveland and this section were disappointed when the Carnival Parade had to be called off on account of rain. The parade will be held on Saturday afternoon. The Kings of Mardi Gras are a small bunch of sports. Their ball was held Sunday night.

Sam Mays says a duck of another party had been used for catching snipe into plastic. Couldn't even call the word.

Soft shells were easy to catch the last of the month but March and April are the best months for getting them.

Mrs. Joe Camille is one of our best small crabs. You can bet they will be other than when they are in the water.

Understand Capt. John Maloy is back from the hospital and on the job.

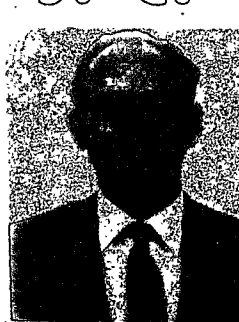

Dick Wolcott one of our local fishermen got this poem from his mother and thought other fishermen would like it.

God grant that I may live to fish until my dying day and when I come to my last cast I'll most humbly pray when in the Lord's safe landing net I'm peacefully asleep. That in his mercy I'll be judged as good enough to keep.

Payments To Hancock Reported By Power Co.

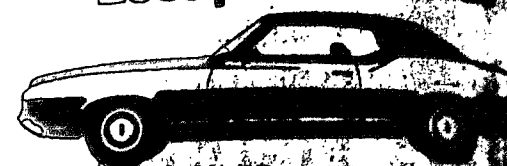

Mississippi Power Company's 1969 net income taxes paid to Hancock County and its municipalities totaled $169,934.40, according to Perry F. Gibson, local manager.

He explained that the company's ad valorem taxes in Hancock County were $78,459.59. Ad valorem taxes and franchise payments to the municipalities were: Bay St. Louis, $30,800.31, Waveland, $7,143.50.

Mississippi Power Company is one of the largest taxpayers in the 23 Hancock County municipalities in which it operates.

The company's total 1969 municipal and county ad valorem taxes and franchise payments were over $1.6 million, of which in excess of $1.6 million was for ad valorem taxes on property owned by the company. Franchise payments of nearly $700,000 represent two percent of the utility's gross revenues in the incorporated cities and towns in which the firm operates, and this money is paid directly to such municipalities.
